

ON RAIL AND AT HOME

Was the Speech Making by the Democratic and Republican Candidates.

BIG RAILROAD MEN'S MEETING.

Gold Badges Show Up at Mr. Bryan's Meetings in Michigan—McKinley Talks to New Yorkers—Palmer and Buckner in Alabama—Watson Accepts—Other Political News.

DETROIT, Mich., Oct. 16.—The Democratic candidate made his first explanation of free silver yesterday at St. Ignace, after leaving Marquette, where he spent the night. A large crowd heard him and applauded enthusiastically.

When he arrived here an audience of several hundred were waiting to receive him. Among the crowd were those who wore yellow badges inscribed an "honest dollar." Noticing these Mr. Bryan asked whether the phrase referred to the gold standard or free silver, and was answered "16 to 1."

At Traverse City Mr. Bryan addressed the largest crowd he has yet found in Michigan. There were a few yellow badges worn by Republicans in the crowd, but the audience for the most part was in sympathy with the speaker and applauded and cheered him during the 30 minutes he was there. This was really the first speech of the day, the others having been desultory and conversational. The speech was along the usual lines of his other silver speeches.

Twenty minutes was the time allotted for Mr. Bryan at Cadillac. Here, as at all other stops, the yellow badges of the gold standard advocates were conspicuous. The candidate was introduced by a free silver Republican and both Mr. Bryan and his wife were cheered repeatedly.

There was a 10-minute stop at Reed City, and in that time Mr. Bryan told the crowd assembled there that the party between gold and silver could be maintained by giving to silver the mint privilege.

Almost everybody in the big crowd at Big Rapids wore a white badge, but the color did not signify their preference, for McKinley and Bryan were both printed on them. In his 30-minute talk at that place, Mr. Bryan was liberally applauded, and he explained that no particular class of people had the right to do the thinking for all the people, and entered further into the discussion of the silver question without touching upon any new points.

Howard City turned out in force. The gold standard people had found plenty of yellow ribbon here, but they made no attempt to interfere with the demonstration of the Bryan adherents. There was a 20-minute stop at that place, and a good sized crowd listened to the candidate's exposition of his doctrine.

There had been a barbecue on all day at Belding and a good many of the country folk were there. Mr. Bryan was pleased with this reception and said so in his brief address. He told them that a man who advocated the gold standard was without a party, and without a party platform, in as much as the Republican party promised to get rid of the gold standard as soon as other nations would help this country to do so.

At Grand Rapids William J. Bryan addressed one of the largest audiences he has yet spoken to during the campaign. There were three meetings arranged for, one at Campau Square, one at Power's opera-house, where he addressed the women of Grand Rapids, and the other at Lockerby hall. At the first meeting, he spoke to as large a crowd as could wedge itself in at the junction of four streets, and it is safe to say that not one-fourth of those present could hear the free silver standard bearer. When Mr. Bryan spoke to the ladies in Power's opera-house, that place was filled with feminine humanity. The last address of the evening, that in Lockerby hall, was delivered before an audience, the size of which was limited to the space inside the wall. Mr. Bryan put Colonel Robert G. Ingersoll, Mraz Halstead, ex-President Benjamin Harrison, and Secretary of the Treasury J. G. Carlisle in same category as Stevenson's Jekyll and Hyde. His denunciation of them was scathing and bitter.

RAILROAD MEN.

Thousands of Them Come to the City to Hear the Big Four President.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 16.—The railroad men's meeting in this city last night was one of the features of this most interesting campaign. The parade was one of the largest, if not the largest, that has been had here this fall, and the men with their lanterns and gay uniforms were cheered by the people on the sidewalks as they passed along.

The marchers were four abreast and it took them 35 minutes to pass a given point. Everything passed off in order. Delegations of railroad men were present from all points of the state, with bands of music, and others who came with them to see the demonstration.

M. E. Ingalls, president of the Big Four railroad, was the principal speaker of the evening, and he found Tomlinson all crowded with an enthusiastic audience as he stepped on the stage to tell them why he thought they should support the Republican nominee. The speaker addressed himself particularly to the railroad men. His terse points in favor of the Republican platform as against the Democratic were well received, as was evidenced by the applauding and cheering.

Mr. Ingalls in the past has always taken an active part in Democratic politics, but this year he is with the Republicans.

Palmer and Buckner.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Oct. 16.—The theater was packed last night with a magnificent audience to greet the distinguished visitors, Generals Palmer and Buckner. Great enthusiasm prevailed. General Palmer spoke nearly an hour and devoted his argument to the currency question almost exclusively, while General Buckner dissected the Chicago platform. Ex-Governor Jones introduced the two speakers and the audience greeted the visitors with great enthusiasm. The reception of the distinguished guests at the depot was a notable one.

TALKS AT CANTON.

McKinley Delivered Speeches to a Number of Delegations Yesterday.

CANTON, O., Oct. 16.—Pennsylvania sent the bulk of the crowd yesterday to Canton. A colored delegation from Belaire, O., and one of workmen from here also called on the candidate. Late in the evening, a delegation from western New York, consisting of professional men of the cities and farmers, dairymen and grape growers from the surrounding country arrived and paid their respects to the Republican standard bearer. The delegation filled eight coaches. The introductory address was made by Congressman W. B. Hooker of Fredonia, N. Y., to which Major McKinley responded, after complimentary remarks on Congressman Hooker and Governor Morton, in part as follows:

"The great empire state is respected everywhere for her free, independent and powerful voice in the councils of nation. She stands proudly erect this year for country, patriotism and national honor. She refuses to wear a party yoke which would lead to national dishonor or repudiation. The glorious old flag is her only banner. She refuses to march under any other, and I am told that from the battery to Forty-second street in the greatest city of the country 'old glory' waves her spotless stripes and stainless stars upon every block and square, appealing for national honor and exaltation of the American name. It is a sight which inspires the young and makes the old young again. Let it wave, holy banner of the free! It was never stained in defeat and it never will be. It was never lowered in dishonor and never will be; and the government whose security and honor is enshrined upon every fold, emblazoned upon every star, will not be lowered or dishonored."

"In the election of 1894 Chautauque county and Dunkirk bore an honorable part. Both were on the right side, both for honest money then, as always in the past, and as they ever will be in the future—for that is a distinct provision of the Republican code of principles—and the unquestioned judgment of the citizens of the great state of New York without regard to party. Both were for protection and reciprocity. Both were for the enforcement of law and order. Both favored the preservation and sanctity of our courts and were emphatically opposed—or would have been had they imagined such a thing possible—to an attack upon these revered tribunals of justice which have always been our great anchors of safety and true safeguards of constitutional liberty, the federal courts of the United States."

"Our opponents differ upon very many propositions, but are apparently united in opposition to maintaining a sound currency and preserving inviolable the obligations of the government. They seem to unite in favoring a reduction of one-half of the savings and the salaries and the wages of the country, for they have expressly declared in favor of a financial policy which would have just that result. There is one thing the people of this country will not submit to—that the savings of the poor shall be squandered and wasted by a depreciation of the hard earned money. Let me tell what I think is better, safer and a more honorable policy. Let us restore the protective tariff system, and pay as we go. Put our laboring people at work and restore business confidence from one end of the country to the other."

TO WATCH THE THREE FRIENDS. Officers to Be Put on the Vessel to Prevent Her Sailing For Cuba.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—Assistant Secretary Wilke yesterday, in response to a telegram of inquiry, instructed the collector of customs at Jacksonville, Fla., that in case the steamer Three Friends was released on bond by the court, to place an officer of the government on board of her to see that her bond not to engage in a filibustering expedition to Cuba was not violated. They were denounced as being unworthy of confidence.

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—William and Louis Glean were passengers by the Ward line steamer Yunuri, from Havana, which has reached quarantine. The brothers said yesterday that they were glad to get away from Cuba with their lives, although financially ruined. Their fine plantation and property at Sagua were entirely destroyed. Both men had been in prison for 49 days, but through the effort of the United States consul at Sagua they were finally liberated. No cause was given by the Spanish authorities for their arrest, their only crime, they said, being the fact that they were American citizens, which in Spanish was in itself sufficient evidence that they were hostile to Spain. Both are warm in their praise of the United States consul at Sagua and also of General Lee, who were untiring in their efforts to regain them their freedom. The Glean brothers will lay their case before the state department at Washington within a few days.

Heavy Apple Crop.

The handbill says that the announcement that Bryan would be in Greencastle electrified the democrats. The handbill is wrong as usual. What is "electrifying" democrats hereabouts is the effort of the leaders to raise the money necessary to get Bryan's train to halt here. It will "go through" Greencastle to the extent of about $200.

THE DAILY BANNER TIMES today begins its fourth year. Three years ago, on Oct. 16, 1893 the paper was started and from that time to this it has not missed an issue. It has steadily kept pace with the times and it has given the news of Greencastle every day, without a break. It has not shut down for a week at a time "to give the force a rest" like some imitators do, nor has it had to resort to "eight pages" of miscellaneous stories and history printed under the guise of a newspaper. The BANNER TIMES has given the news, both telegraphic and local, and in the fourth year we propose to do the same. The BANNER TIMES appears promptly at four o'clock every afternoon and is always on time. If you want to be in the local push for news you should be a subscriber to the BANNER TIMES. Delivered anywhere in the city for 10 cents per week.

THE Democrat is trying to get out of its predicament on county matters by saying it left out a word and instead of "ever increasing expenses" it tried to say "ever increasing pauper expenses." The entire last end of that county confession article appeared like a cyclone had struck it and to the experienced eye of a printer it looked like it had had several revisions. Since the Democrat has misrepresented county matters so glaringly we are not the least surprised to hear it now say that it didn't mean what it first said. It is evident the court house squad couldn't stand that rap it got on "ever increasing expenses," but we want to assure them that those three words contained about all the truth there was in the entire article, and now that has to be changed.

H. M. RANDEL is running over Putnam county begging people not to desert the democratic ticket. Mr. Randel is an ex-office holder and has had a longer and a stronger pull at the public teat in Putnam than any other man. Mr. Farrow denounced him as a gold bug in 1894, and while Mr. Randel is ostensibly for free silver now, he, and all the others of the court house ring, are seeking to destroy the populist party in this county. Mr. Farrow plainly states what he and his party thought of democrats in 1894. How can true and consistent populists now have faith in a man or support a party that so roundly abused them two short years ago?

PRESIDENT INGALLS of the Big Four last night effectually set at rest the popocratic argument that he is in favor of coercion. He said he would discharge any man who attempted to coerce his fellow men on account of politics.

DEMOCRATIC TREATMENT OF PUTNAM POPULISTS IN 1894.

In the Democrat Alexander J. Farrow, of Morton, concludes a long article in which he advises his populist friends to support the local democratic ticket. His plea again brings to mind recent political history and local newspaper files furnish it. In October, 1894, just previous to the election he sent a challenge to H. M. Randel and George W. Hanna to meet him in joint debate as they were all running for the same office. The notice of challenge was sent to the Star-Press, the Democrat and the BANNER TIMES. The BANNER TIMES was the only one of the three papers that had the fairness to print the challenge as it was sent in and this fact brought out a scathing rebuke of the democratic organs from the pen of Mr. Farrow. The rebuke was a column in length and the BANNER TIMES had the fairness to print that also, as both the democratic papers that year were fighting the populists, calling them names and refusing them representation in their columns. The democratic candidates at that time were lambasting the Putnam populists right and left. The reason Mr. Farrow issued his challenge was as his first sentence in his card in the BANNER TIMES said: "On account of some gross misstatements made by the Hon. H. M. Randel, candidate for representative, in a speech made at Morton."

The BANNER TIMES hereupon again produces the deadly parallel on local democrats and in extracts from Mr. Farrow's card to the BANNER TIMES printed Nov. 2, 1894, shows their inconsistency:

To the Editor of the Banner Times.

I wish right here Mr. Editor to offer my sincere thanks for publishing my challenge and for publishing the proceedings of the people's party convention last spring. Our convention passed a series of fourteen resolutions that were red hot and to the point. They should have been read by every voter of Putnam county. The BANNER TIMES was the only paper in Putnam that fulfilled the mission of a county paper by giving its readers the news. The BANNER TIMES published our resolutions in full while the other two papers failed to publish them, thus defrauding their readers of news to which they were entitled. The truth is they were afraid for their readers to read the truth. Their motto seems to be "Where ignorance is bliss 'tis folly to be wise."

It seems the doughty warrior, the Hon. H. M. Randel, has recently broken out in a fresh place and has fomented the following proclamation in the Star-Press of Oct. 27, which speaks for itself. "I asked Mr. Hanna when he was nominated for a joint discussion. As for Mr. Farrow I don't consider him in it, but will say for his particular benefit, that I will meet both of them in joint discussion at two o'clock each day from now till the election, and fill my appointments after night." H. M. RANDEL.

Harry No. 2 of the west, it seems, has been going around Putnam county since the campaign opened with a chip on his shoulder, daring Hon. G. W. Hanna to knock it off. I have this to say of Mr. Hanna, as a warm personal friend for twenty-five or thirty years. He is my ideal of a modest, unassuming gentleman. He is honest in his convictions and fearless in expressing them. He scorns a mean action and is the soul of honor. His ability is great and has been underestimated. He is an humble christian and of long suffering like the Great Master. But if the pugnacious Harry jumps on him, it will be another sad case of the bull attacking the locomotive. In that case I will have to admire Harry's pluck, but damn his discretion. It will be a parallel case to "Billy Jones' Fighting Dorg" when he tackled the wrong tom cat. The Hon. Harry will be so bit and chewed and clawed that even Chairman Ader won't know him. "As for Mr. Farrow, I don't consider him in it." Oh Harry! Harry! How could you say those cruel words. You have plunged my soul from the highest pinnacle of expectation to the lowest depths of despondency. I fondly thought I was strictly in it with both feet, and in the swim that would land me in the state house. To think when I was young and unexperienced in politics—when I believed democracy meant more than a name—when I thought, that like Caesar's wife the g. o. p. was above suspicion, I voted for you at the primary and the election for twenty or twenty-five years to elect you to fat offices, whose proceeds brought those broad fertile acres of yours in Monroe township. In the language of the bard of Avon, "This is the most unkindest cut of all." "Ingratitude stronger than traitors arms, quite vanquishes me," and as I receive your dagger thrust, I reproachfully exclaim "Et tu brute." Arouse my soul to the bugle call of duty! I am challenged by the gallant Harry of the west (No. 2.) or the Don Quixote of gold-bug Clevelandism in Putnam county, to meet him in the lists, with the slogan "Lay on McDuff and d—d be he who first cries hold, enough." Conscious of inability to rival the transcendent eloquence of this boastful gold-bug giant, I base my hope for victory on Shakespeare's immortal words, "Thrice armed is he who hath his quarrel just, and naked he, though locked up in steel, whose conscience with injustice is corrupted." I accept the challenge and may Heaven defend the right. A. J. FARROW.

Just at this time local political history is valuable, and the BANNER TIMES has a barrel of it constantly on tap. We have all brands, and, just as a gentle reminder to our populist friends, we will quote what they said in their resolutions on county matters in county convention, January 27, 1894:

"We condemn the extravagance and mismanagement of the public affairs of Putnam county, whereby the rate of taxation has been raised about twenty-five per cent higher on the hundred dollars than it has been since the close of the civil war, when the products of the farm are lower than they have been for the past thirty years, many of them falling below the cost of production."

Mr. Farrow was chairman of the committee on resolutions, and read the same in open convention. The resolution was as true as gospel then and the county is now far worse off. We present this to our populist friends as a fair argument that democrats are now trying to take them from their stand of 1894

WHAT the people of Putnam county want is a statement of county indebtedness signed up by the present commissioners. One alleged to commissioners deceased or out of the state will cut no figure now.

MCKINLEY GOLD BUGS.

They Crowd the Court House. A Splendid Speech.

Last night the McKinley Gold Bugs gave the finest and the most brilliant parade seen here this year. The enthusiasm opened early and the Silver Leaf did itself proud. After a parade of the principal streets the court house was packed and jammed with the colored boys and their friends. The band occupied the jury box and played at the opening and the close of the meeting. Jerome Smith, president of the club, acted as chairman and introduced the speaker of the evening, Hon. A. H. Roberts, of Chicago, who took the place of Mr. Grenner who was advertised. Mr. Roberts has filled fifteen engagements in this state this campaign and his work has been so highly satisfactory that he has been engaged until the close of the campaign.

Mr. Roberts covered all the issues of the campaign concisely and well. He showed that the people do not want to open the mints to silver but instead they need to open the mills and factories to labor. "Till man," said he, "comes from the country where they believe in the free lynching of the black man as well as free trade and free silver." If Thomas Jefferson should rise up in his grave today and see the people who claim to be following in his foot steps now, he would fall back dead. Tillman said Chicago convention to go south again into discord with the north. Laboring men get more wages now than they did when the so called crime of '73 was committed. Instead of bearing on his brow the thorny crown of gold, the laborers of the U. S. have the record of bearing upon their minds the knowledge of the fact that they have $1,500,000,000 to their credit in the saving banks of the U. S. The real crucifix was four years ago when they were suspended from a cross of free trade.

Mr. Roberts' speech was full of such truths as above quoted and he was met with rounds of applause. No such enthusiasm has been shown here in years and the colored boys propose sending up a vote for McKinley that will have great effect. Their parade, fire works, music and great speech shows that the loyal boys of the McKinley Gold Bugs are up and a coming. The meeting and audience was a fine compliment to the hard workers of the club. It was, indeed, a rouser.

A very pretty wedding occurred at the home of Mrs. Sarah A. Moser, three miles east of here, Thursday evening at 7 o'clock, in the marriage of Mr. Otto F. McCoy and Miss Ella Moser. Elder A. H. Morris of the Christian church of Greencastle, performed the ceremony in a most happy and impressive manner, in the presence of about thirty relatives and immediate friends. After the ceremony a sumptuous marriage feast was served, and the evening was very pleasantly spent in conversation and music. On Friday a reception was tendered the newly married couple and about twenty friends at the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew T. McCoy. Mr. McCoy and wife will at once go to housekeeping on the farm of J. N. Cooper, one half mile south of town. We offer hearty congratulations to these young people.

The Carpentersville Rally.

At Roachdale Wednesday after 1:30 p. m. it was decided by Chairman Case to have a meeting at night at Carpentersville. E. G. Hogate, candidate for joint senator who spoke at Roachdale in the afternoon consented to go to Carpentersville and speak at night. The speaking was from the portico at the home of A. H. Pickel, the audience gathering in the yard. It was expected that only a few of the neighbors would be there, but a delegation came from Roachdale; several big wagon loads headed by the drum corp came from Bainbridge; Jackson township had men out, and so what was expected to be only a neighborhood gathering was finally a crowd of 300 to 400 and nearly every one a voter. Mr. Hogate spoke for an hour and twenty minutes, treating the money question, showing conclusively that the claim put forth by the popocrats that the republican party was in favor of gold only as money, and doing away with silver and paper was not sustained by the party record, nor by the republican national platform this year. He also said that the cause of our woes today is not the financial policy, or the kind of money in circulation, or the lack of money to do business, but it was the absence of a protective tariff with reciprocity features, and the agitation of the money question destroying confidence. He also dwelt on the patriotic side of the controversy that the popocrats are attempting to revolutionize the old, well established form of government and convert our courts into political machines, and make the general government subservient to the state. Carpentersville had a trial. The outpouring of the people was an eye opener to the democrats. We are under obligations to our chairman for his fore-thought in providing for the meeting. We will make a good report from Franklin township November 3rd.

COLONEL INGERSOLL ON MONEY.

He States Some Plain Truths in His Own Unique Way.

Following is an extract from the speech of Colonel Robert G. Ingersoll at Chicago on Oct. 8:

Money that is money needs no guarantee, needs no backer; it is always good. No matter how many nations go down to dust, good money remains forever the same. We have a man running for the presidency on three platforms, with two vice presidents, that says money is the creature of law. If the government can make money by law, why should the government collect taxes? According to Mr. Bryan, our fathers were the friends of silver, and yet our dear old fathers in all their lives only minted 8,000,000 of these sacred dollars. Now see what the enemies of silver have done. Since 1873 the enemies of silver have coined over 430,000,000 of these dollars, and yet silver kept going down. We are coining now over $2,000,000 a month, and silver keeps going down.

Senator Jones of Nevada, in 1873, voted for the law of 1873. He said, from his speech in the senate, that God had made gold the standard. He said that gold was the mother of civilization. Whether he has heard from God since or not I do not know. But now he is on the other side. Senator Stewart of Nevada was there at the time, but voted for the act of 1873 and said that gold was the only standard. He has changed his mind. No government can afford to be a clipper on coins.

A great republic cannot afford to stamp a lie on silver or gold or paper.
Honest money for an honest nation. You cannot make a paper dollar without taking a dollar's worth of paper. We must have paper that represents money. I want it issued by the government, and I want behind every one of these paper dollars either a dollar in gold or a silver dollar worth 100 cents, so that every greenback under the flag can lift up its hands and swear, "I know that my redeemer liveth." That was where I was 20 years ago, and that is where I am to-night.

For nations and individuals, at all times, everywhere and forever, honesty is the best policy. Better be an honest bankrupt than a rich thief. Poverty can hold in its hand the jewel honor—a jewel that outshines all other gems. A thousand times better be poor and noble than rich and fraudulent. Nobody can be helped by free coinage except the few people who could pay their debts if they were willing. Some say that it would help the mine owners. It would not.
Coining this bullion into dollars would not increase its value, because you could coin the bullion of the whole world and the supply would be greater than the demand. Leave free coinage to-morrow, and there is not a silver mine owner that would make a dollar—not one—by changing it into American coin. It would only be worth what the bullion is worth in the open market.

We want good money—good, honest money. And there was never any real prosperity for a nation or an individual without honesty, without integrity, and it is our duty to preserve the reputation of the great republic.

Wheat, Cotton and Silver.

While Bryan is telegraphing the New York Journal that "the gold standard makes a dealer dollar, a dealer dollar means falling prices, and falling prices mean hard times," the prices of wheat, cotton and silver are going up, and the price of silver, the supposed barometer of prices of farm products, is going down.

Bryan must demystify his farm product speeches or he will have to face such hard questions as: "What about wheat and cotton? Are their prices going up in sympathy with silver or because of a shortage of foreign crops?
What connection is there, anyway, between the prices of farm products and of silver?"

Of course Bryan can answer all such questions. In fact, they are "dead ends" for a powerful man who can lift the price of all the silver in the world to twice its present height, but it is just as well to avoid all unnecessary embarrassment.

Bryan's "Bimetallism."

Mr. Bryan still calls himself a "bimetallist," though he has never even attempted to answer the question: "In the history of this country has there ever been a time when gold and silver circulated upon equal terms as full legal tender money, with the mints open to the free and unlimited coinage of both?"

There never was such a time. Free and unlimited coinage at 16 to 1 has never, in any country, at any time, given a bimetallic currency. Mr. Bryan is a silver monometallist in fact, whatever he may think himself to be in theory.

If a merchant marks up his prices and people refuse to buy, he still has his goods. If a workingman undertakes to mark up his wages and employers refuse to pay, where is he? What intelligent wage earner can vote for the higher prices of cheaper money and trust to luck to increase his wages proportionately?

Silver Question in a Nutshell.

In every rural town of the country free coinage advocates are promising farmers that 16 to 1 would raise the price of grain and meat and thus reduce the proportions of the produce of the farm that goes to pay the labor employed. Of all brazen performances of the century, the most impudent is that by which at the same time the wage earners are invited to assist in a campaign to make their food more dear to them and to reduce the wages of the most numerous class of wage earners in the country.

There is the silver question in a nutshell. It is simply a question as to whether our wage earners are getting too high wages. They may as well face the question. If our wage earners believe they are getting too high wages and that this country is suffering in consequence, all they have to do is to take lower wages. If they prefer a roundabout way, they can favor free coinage of silver, and they will get their wages cut down half without any further trouble on their part.

In the light of our experience with flat money legislation, from the greenback to the Sherman pig silver certificates, this long suffering country will finally learn that wealth is not created by fiat, but is made by labor; that the law can put no dollar into any man's pocket unless it first takes it from the pocket of some other man, and that wage earners are first and most interested in opposing interference by law.
There has never yet been made a law to put into any laboring man's pocket a single dollar that he did not earn. He of all men, therefore, has the best right to insist that there shall be no law passed that will raise the price of what he has to buy, and thus take from him any portion of what he has earned.—Hon.
John De Witt Warner in Present "Problems."

Senator Stewart's Sound Arguments.

The question never will be settled until you determine the simple question whether the laboring man is entitled to a gold dollar if he earns it, or whether you are going to cheat him with something else. That is the upshot of the whole thing. *** There have been a great many battles fought against gold, and gold has won every time. I do not care how much you discuss it or how many resolutions you pass, they do not make any difference. You must come to the same conclusion that all other people have—that gold is recognized as the universal standard of value.
It is the measure that must be used. It is the measure by which your wealth must be tested. It has been and always will be the touchstone of measurement, and when you depart from that and try to figure up any other measure which the world does not recognize you get into confusion. Attempting to reconcile them, it is idle to talk about it. It is idle to talk about compromising on any other measure of value. The world will not accept it. We have the experience of every nation that has tried it, and it has been tried in almost every civilized nation. *** Do not let us try to deceive the American people. Do not let us try to make them believe by some hocus pocus of legislation that we can give them something of real value—we can give them a measure of value that is better than the universal standard of mankind. Do not deceive them in that regard. Let them know the facts now.
I believe that it would be highly injurious to this country to again inflate the currency. *** I need not enlarge upon the evils of a depreciated currency.
This country has felt them too severely to require that I should mention them.
It matters not what kind of a depreciated currency you have, it necessarily entails many evils. ***

Wages Go Up Slowly.

Every cheap money experiment ever tried in this or in any country has demonstrated that, while prices respond quickly to changes in the value of money, wages respond but slowly.
Hence, though wages appear to rise when money is depreciating, they are in reality falling. The difference in rapidity with which wages and prices go up in elevators while wages walk up the stairs. It is certain that wage earners always lose and never gain by being paid in a depreciated or depreciating currency.

Confiscation of Property.

A farmer who had his crop of wheat stored in his granary or a manufacturer who had his warehouse filled with the products of his factory would think it an outrage if the government should insist upon confiscating one-half of his wheat or his goods. What better is it by the adoption of free silver coinage to confiscate one-half of the wage of the laborer or one-half of his accumulated savings, or one-half of the dower of the widow, or one-half of the pension of the soldier?—Philadelphia Record.

Restore the Zero Freezing Point.

In the haste in which the Democrats at Chicago prepared their platform they forgot to include the plank declaring in favor of restoring the natural freezing point of zero. Mankind has suffered and shivered tremendously because of this inhuman standard of temperature adopted undoubtedly at the instigation of coal barons and quack doctors. Without waiting for the aid or consent of any other nation let us proceed to lower the freezing point and to reform our climate in the interests of the masses.

Want the Best Tools.

The farmer and the mechanic must be free to use the very best tools and implements, and the merchant and banker must be free to use the very best money and instruments of credit. An honest and stable measure of value is just as necessary to both as are honest and stable measures of weights and quantities, and it requires no argument to show that without these it would be impossible to transact the ordinary business of the country.—Hon. John G.
Carlisle.

They have the silver basis in India, and have had it for centuries, and it has had a fair trial. It would ruin this country and bankrupt everybody. The fountain of business is stability, and with a silver standard you can never have it. In Calcutta I can buy this suit of clothes for $40 today, and perhaps $20 to-morrow, and the next day it will be $50. You can never tell from the number of dollars you own how much you are worth. The country is at the mercy of the money changers and speculators. The idea of going to a silver standard from a gold one is too ridiculous for serious consideration. I have seen enough of this in India.—Bishop Doane's opinion affirmed and endorsed by his
